This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

LONG ISLAND HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

THE Society was organized in March, 1863, and in the following month was incorporated under the general law of the State.

It began its operations in two small rented rooms, one of which afforded ample accommodation for its library, and the other for its meetings. Contributions of books, and of money for the purchase of special classes of books, also of manuscripts, paintings and curiosities, soon made it necessary to add other rooms, until, in 1867, the fourth year of the existence of the Society, it occupied eight connecting apartments, well filled with its various collections.

In 1868, the site upon which the Society's building now stands was secured, but it was not until 1877 that a sufficient fund could be secured for an adequate and appropriate building. The cornerstone was laid in November, 1878; the building was completed in 1880, and was formally opened, with suitable ceremonies, in January, 1881. The amount subscribed for site and building, with accruing interest, was $155,684.05. The cost of the site was $32,500, and of the building $121,209.72, leaving a surplus of $1,974.33, which was used in the purchase of furniture. Every part of the work was done in the best manner, at a time when materials were lower than usual, and the house as it stands is admirably adapted to the purposes of the Society.

Since it has occupied this permanent home, the Society has made large and important additions to all departments of its collections, and its endowment has been increased.

The growth of the institution has hitherto been largely due to the personal efforts of a few active members of the Society, and to benefactions of money and boons from the living. Thus far it has received but three bequests, one of $5,000, from Mrs. Maria Cary, one of $10,000, from Mrs. Urania B. Humphrey, and one of $10,000, from Hon. Simeon B. Chittenden. Recently a fund of $5,000 has been subscribed by members to print a catalogue of the books now in the library. This work is in preparation, and will signalize, we trust, in a very useful way, the completion of the first thirty years of the existence of the Society.

The names of all who have thus far contributed to the various funds, or who have given books, manuscripts, paintings, specimens of natural history, and objects of curious interest, have been announced in the reports issued by the Society, and are fully entered upon its records, where they will form a permanent memorial of the wise public spirit and liberality of those who have manifested by their work for this institution their consciousness that "while men die Man survives."

Their efforts and benefactions have enriched, and will enrich, the lives of many in this community: while their service to posterity, by the establishment of this institution, will be enduring, and will grow more valuable with the passage of time.

The Library contains about 45,000 volumes, including many rare and valuable works. It is rich in works relating to American local history, and to family genealogy, and contains nearly all the important works which have been published upon general American history. It is also strong in English and French history and biography, and has a fine collection of costly and richly illustrated volumes, relating to fine art, antiquities and natural history. It contains a good collection of general literature, and is well furnished with Encyclopædias, Dictionaries and similar works of reference. The most important American and English Periodicals and the New York and Brooklyn daily and weekly papers are supplied regularly, and of many of these periodicals and newspapers the Library contains complete or nearly complete files.

Many unpublished manuscripts are in possession of the Society, among them a large portion of the papers of Henry Laurens, the correspondence of his son, Col. John Laurens, with letters of Richard Henry Lee, General Gates and other eminent men of the period; also a series of one hundred and twenty-three original letters of Washington, formerly belonging to Edward Everett, and which have recently been printed by the Society.

Thus far the Society has published four volumes, with the following titles:

VOLUME I.—Journal of a voyage to New York, and a tour in several of the American Colonies, in 1679-80. By Jasper Dankers and Peter Sluyter. Translated from the original manuscript in Dutch, and edited by Henry C. Murphy. Brooklyn, 1867. 8vo pp. xlvii.–440.

VOLUME II.—The Battle of Long Island, with connecting preceding events, and the subsequent American retreat. Introductory narrative by Thomas W. Field, with authentic documents. Brooklyn, 1869. 8vo pp. ix.–549.

VOLUME III.—The Campaign of 1776, around New York and Brooklyn, including a new and circumstantial account of the Battle of Long Island, and the loss of New York. By Henry P. Johnston. Brooklyn, 1878. 8vo pp. 300–209.

VOLUME IV.—George Washington and Mount Vernon. A collection of Washington's unpublished agricultural and personal letters. Edited with historical and genealogical introduction by Moncure Daniel Conway. Brooklyn, 1889. 8vo pp. xcii.–352.

The Society possesses a number of valuable paintings, mostly portraits of historical persons, and of those prominent in the history of Brooklyn. An interesting feature of the institution, is a Museum of relics and curiosities, particularly such as are of historical interest in relation to this country, including also a cabinet complete as possible, of specimens illustrating the natural and physical history of Long Island.

The Society holds stated meetings, at which papers are read, or addresses delivered upon topics of historical, literary or scientific interest. These meetings begin in November.

The privileges and terms of membership are as follows:

Members are entitled to admission to all departments of the institution, and to the use of the Library and Reading-rooms.

Books are not allowed to be removed from the building. Cards, admitting two, are sent by post, to members, for every lecture before the Society.

The privileges of the use of the Library, and of access to the Museum, are extended to the ladies in the immediate families of members, and to members' sons under the age of twenty-one.

A very attractive room is specially provided and equipped for any ladies who may desire to avail themselves, as many do, of the pleasure and benefit offered by the institution.

Terms, payable in advance, are: For Annual Subscribers, $10 the first year, and thereafter $5 a year; or, for Life Membership, $100, in full for all fees and dues.

Application for membership can be made through any member of the Society, or to the Librarian.

Ladies and gentlemen who may be disposed to avail themselves of the privileges of the institution, are invited to call at the Society's house, corner of Pierrepont and Clinton Streets, and examine the collections. The institution is open from 8.30 A. M. until 9.30 P. M.

V.—The government of the Society shall be vested in a Board of twenty-five Directors; to be chosen by the Society, as hereinafter provided, by ballot, on the second Tuesday of May of each year, of which election notice shall be given in at least two papers printed on Long Island.

* * * * * * *

At the regular meeting of the Society, to be held on the first Thursday of May, 1864, there shall be held an election for five Directors to fill the places of the Directors of the first class, whose term shall then expire; and annually thereafter an election shall be held for five Directors to fill the place of those whose term of office shall then expire; and all Directors elected at said election in 1864, and thereafter, shall hold their office for five years. Any Director appointed to fill a vacancy, shall hold his office for the balance of the unexpired term of the person to whose place he shall be so appointed.

In case any election for Directors shall not be held at the time above appointed, such election may be held at the next regular meeting of the Society, or at any special meeting called for that purpose, in the manner herein before mentioned; and the Directors elected at such meeting shall hold their offices for the same terms as if they had been elected at the meeting at which such election should have taken place.

The Directors shall have custody of all buildings, funds, securities, and collections, belonging to the Society; shall fix all salaries to be paid to its officers; and shall have in their hands the entire control and regulation of its affairs in the intervals between the Annual Meetings. They shall fill vacancies occurring in the Board during the year; and shall meet on the third Tuesday of May in each year, and as much oftener as they shall deem necessary, or shall be called together by the President or Executive Committee. The Directors may declare the place of any member of the Board vacant who shall be absent from three successive meetings of the Board without sending a reasonable excuse therefor to the Recording Secretary.

ELECTION OF MEMBERS.

VI.—Members shall be elected as follows: The candidates shall be proposed publicly at a meeting of the Society, by a member thereof, and the nominations, together with the name of the member making them, shall be entered on the minutes, and be referred to the Executive Committee. The Reports of that Committee, recommending candidates for election, shall be openly read to the Society, at a meeting subsequent to that at which the nominations were made; and if any member demand a ballot, the election shall be by ballot, and five black balls shall exclude. If no ballot be demanded, the candidates so recommended shall be declared duly elected members of the Society.

Members may also be elected by the Board of Directors; and Corresponding or Honorary members, may, by a unanimous vote of the Board, be elected without a previous nomination.

All certificates of membership shall be signed by the President and by the Secretaries.

The duties of the Foreign Corresponding Secretary shall be limited to the correspondence with individuals or associate bodies in foreign countries; and those of Home Corresponding Secretary shall, in like manner, be confined to the United States; except that, in the absence of either of these officers, or during a vacancy in either office, the duties thus left unfulfilled shall devolve upon the other Corresponding Secretary, until such absence shall terminate, or the vacancy be supplied.

Any person, not a member, may obtain the like privilege of consultation from the President or Librarian, if known to them, or upon the recommendation of some other member to whom the applicant is known. 5. It shall be the duty of the Librarian, or his Assistant, to report to the Executive Committee any injury done to any book or manuscript by any person consulting the same; and the said Committee may, at their discretion, lay such reports before the Board. They shall meet at least once in every month, excepting the month of August; and shall keep accurate Minutes of all their transactions; and a full Report shall be presented by them, at each Regular Meeting of the Board of Directors, of what has been done by them, or by the Librarian and Treasurer, at their direction, in the interval between that and the preceding Regular Meeting.

COMMITTEE ON FINE ARTS.

XXII.—The Committee on Fine Arts shall have the arrangement and general direction of the Society's Gallery of Art. They shall decide upon the admission into the Gallery of objects of art, and determine their position therein. They shall, subject to the approval of the Board, make such special rules and regulations in regard to the Gallery, as they may think necessary for its preservation, proper use, and enjoyment; and shall devise and present plans for its extension and improvement.

ALTERATION OF BY-LAWS.

XXIII.—No alteration in the By-Laws of the Society shall be made, unless such alteration shall have been openly proposed at a previous meeting of the Directors, entered on the minutes, with the name of the Director proposing the same, and shall be adopted by a majority of the members of the Board. And in case of such proposed amendment, the Recording Secretary shall be required to accompany the notice for the next meeting of the Board with a copy of the proposed amendment, and a notice that the same will be acted upon at the meeting for which the notice was given.
